

Project: West Valley City Intermodal Greenway Project

Recipient: West Valley City, Utah

Location: West Valley City, Utah

Purpose: This project will continue a series of enhancements to the West Valley City Center Plaza, with intent to facilitate a pedestrian connection between an intermodal transit stop, City offices, a County library, a District Court, and a nearby mall. West Valley City is master-planning a redevelopment of the surrounding area to establish an urban core for the City. The project will include stationary art, a water element in front of City Hall, additional benches and seating areas, culinary water and power service to the plaza for festivals and events, and a signature ornamental wind turbine in the center of the plaza. The intent of the project is to establish a premiere public gathering place in the Wasatch Front, and to provide a pedestrian connection to the Valley Fair Mall, which has been undergoing a $100 million redevelopment since 2008 despite considerable economic challenges. The renovations will produce over $200 million annually in retail sales, and provide an additional 1,400 jobs to the area.

Amount: $500,000
